Acknowledgements

Executive Director, Don Hunt, declared that the CDOT Region 1 I-70 West Corridor Twin Tunnels Environmental Assessment (EA) Team recently received a major national honor from the FHWA. He gave the following information regarding the award:

- Over a period of 13 months beginning in October, 2011, the team began the environmental assessment process to address a variety of factors, including pressing needs in the tunnels area, safety concerns through and east of the tunnels, and congestion along the eastbound side of the I-70 corridor.
- The project successfully incorporated strategies from the FHWA's Every Day Counts initiative, which aims to expedite project delivery while protecting the environment and enhancing roadway safety. CDOT, the FHWA Colorado Division, and other government agencies worked to extend the environmental assessment beyond the normal scope of preliminary design, especially in the area of legal review. Legal staff site visits and review of the EA drafts allowed the team to resolve legal concerns early in the process, saving one month in the project's overall schedule.
- The FHWA was very pleased with the work of the team; so pleased, in fact, that the team was awarded the 2013 FHWA Environmental Excellence Award during a meeting of the AASHTO Standing Committee on the Environment in Virginia Beach, VA, on June 18.
- David Singer, Region 1 Environmental, represented the team in Virginia to accept the award.

In honoring the team, CDOT Region 1 Transportation Director Tony DeVito noted that the Twin Tunnels expansion project was the first major investment on the east part of the I-70 west mountain corridor in 40 years. He confirmed that the team won the award based on their ability to successfully balance a variety of factors, including the protection of critical environmental and cultural resources while addressing the growing transportation needs of Colorado and the nation.

In attendance for Commission recognition were team members: Melinda Urban (FHWA); Vanessa Henderson (CDOT Environmental Services); Mandy Whorton (CH2M Hill); and David Singer (CDOT Environmental); Allan Brown (Atkins North America); Randy Jensen (FHWA/retired CDOT); Tony DeVito; Ben Acimovic (CDOT R1 Twin Tunnels project manager); Gina McAfee (Jacobs Engineering/HDR Inc.); and Jim Bemelen (R1 I-70 Mountain Corridor Project Manager). Unable to attend were Lisa Schoch (CDOT Senior Staff Historian) and Lance Hanf (FHWA Legal Counsel/San Francisco office).

Other Matters

Chairman Reiff announced that the Nominating Committee members would be Commissioners Gruen, Connell and Hofmeister. He requested that the Committee to make their nominations for Chairman, Vice Chairman and Secretary at the August meeting. He mentioned that there was an opening on the Colorado Scenic Byways Commission and requested that anyone interested in serving in that capacity should let him know.
