To: CDOT Transportation Commission

From: Dave Gordon, Aeronautics Director

Subject: Annual Report

Dear Transportation Commission Members:

This month you will be having your annual luncheon meeting with the Aeronautical Board of Directors and the Division's staff. We will provide the Transportation Commission and the Board with an overview of the Division's activities during the 2012 calendar year, including:

- Aviation fuel tax collections
- Aviation grant project history and awards
- Special events and activities
- State Infrastructure Bank (SIB) update

For your information, I have included with this memo a list of the current members of the Colorado Aeronautical Board, along with the areas they were selected to represent. I hope you find the information helpful.

The Division's staff and Aeronautical Board of Directors are appreciative of the support from the Transportation Commission and we look forward to sharing our accomplishments and answering any questions you may have.

Dave Gordon
Director

The seven-member Colorado Aeronautical Board was created by statute in 1988 and is responsible for aviation development in Colorado. Members of the Board represent specific statewide aviation interests.

Appointed by the Governor to serve three-year terms, the Colorado Aeronautical Board is designed as representative of both governmental and aviation-interest constituencies.

The Colorado Department of Transportation Aeronautics Division administratively supports the Colorado Aeronautical Board on issues of aviation safety, as technical advisors, as support of government and individual aviation needs through entitlement reimbursements of aviation and fuel tax revenues and a discretionary aviation grant program, as well as in maintaining the state aviation system plan.

Both the Aeronautical Board and the Aeronautics Division work within the Colorado Department of Transportation to establish and encourage multi-modal aspects in today's transportation.
