I am writing to you as a former Lake City resident in opposition to CO 149 Pilot Project. I used to live south of town in a house on Hwy 149. The difference between winter and summer noise level was considerable which was to be expected with a tourist economy. I can't imagine why you'd want to add OHV traffic to the kinda crazy mix of summer traffic in Lake City. For example, I dealt with Jeep traffic with people chasing bears out of the hills and into our trees and yards. Then they'd ask if they could visit to find the bears and take pictures!

The Alpine Loop is a precious resource. Allowing noise pollution and habitat destruction is not worth OHV dollars at any price. Lake City is the last of the beautiful wild places in Colorado. With a little more consideration, surely you could find a way to consider the needs of residents, tourists, and wildlife that doesn't destroy the peace and quiet of the Alpine Loop or of the porch sitting Lake City residents.
