Bid opening date:

Wage determination number and effective date to be used on the project and included in the specification package:

Revised wage determination modification number and effective date not included in the specification package (that was published less than 10 days prior to bid opening):

CDOT has determined that there is an unreasonable amount of time available before bid opening to notify bidders of the wage determination modification that was published less than 10 calendar days prior to the bid opening date. As a result of this decision, the wage determination modification will not be updated and included in the specifications for the above-referenced contract.

Note: This document shall not be used when a revised wage determination is published 10 or more calendar days from the date of bid opening. This situation would require the revised wage determination to be updated in the project's specifications.
