Colorado Department of Transportation
Project: Advanced Guideway System Feasibility Study

REQUEST FOR FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Public Notice for Professional Consultants

In 2009 the Division of Transit and Rail (“DTR”) was created as a division of the Colorado Department of Transportation (“CDOT”). The DTR was created to plan, develop, finance, operate and integrate transit and rail services in the State. CDOT has the ability to enter into contracts with public and private entities for public transit projects. CDOT is pleased to invite interested potential concessionaires or other possible financial providers (“Financial Providers”) to submit a response to this request for financial information (“RFFI”). The purpose for the RFFI is to advance the feasibility assessment of financial options to develop an Advanced Guideway System (“AGS”) in the I-70 Mountain Corridor from the vicinity of C470/I-70 in Jefferson County to Eagle County Regional Airport. Ultimately the desire is to have a connection from Eagle County Regional Airport to Denver International Airport.

DTR presents this RFFI to prospective Financial Providers to gather information to inform an initial assessment of the overall feasibility of providing an AGS for the I-70 Mountain Corridor as required in the Programmatic Environmental Impact Statement (PEIS) Record of Decision.

The goal of the current effort is to establish if there are one or more feasible financial alternatives to fund or implement an AGS by the year 2025 as prescribed by the PEIS Record of Decision. Interested Consultants:
