| 2. Describe your experience with construction claims: Represented numerous clients in mediations, arbitrations, and jury trials involving residential and public works construction projects. High degree of familiarity with CDOT's specifications and relevant industry standards for public works projects. Practical and forensic experience with cost accounting as it relates to evaluating the reasonableness of bids and budgetary compliance as well as practical and forensic experience with critical path scheduling on public works projects. Expert witness/consulting experience. |
| 3. Describe your knowledge of construction contract law:   |

Personally drafted, negotiated and reviewed hundreds of construction contracts. High degree of familiarity with Colorado construction cases and Federal construction cases. Practical experience regularly evaluating CDOT specifications ("specs") including, but not limited to, specs for differing site conditions, extra work, force account, concrete paving, excavation, embankment and storm water specs.

4. Describe your experience with construction contract administration:

Involved during the last several years in managing numerous public works construction contracts including, but not limited to, budgetary compliance/cost control, interfacing with subcontractors and suppliers on payment issues, Critical Path Scheduling, specification and contract interpretation, preconstruction conference preparation, change order preparation and approvals, RFI's, warranty and closeout procedures, pay applications, and claims administration.

5. Describe your construction field experience:

First became involved in construction during the mid 1980s working for Hasley Construction. Hasley Construction performed public works, residential and commercial general contracting. Developed familiarity reading plans for residential, commercial and public works construction projects. Worked for Hasley Construction during high school and college developing considerable experience in demolition, excavating, forming and pouring concrete, rough framing, drywalling and roofing for residential, commercial and public works construction projects. Since 2004, regularly interfaced with project managers, superintendents and foremen in the field on public works construction projects concerning issues such as CPM schedules, subcontractor performance, payment issues, change orders, force account specs, excavation specs, embankment specs, concrete and steel specs.

6. Describe your DRB (or arbitration) training, certification, and experience:

Over 11 years of experience representing clients in construction disputes involving numerous mediations, arbitrations, and jury trials. Significant experience in mediations advocating on behalf of clients in front of former Colorado Supreme Court Justices, former Judges from the Colorado Court of Appeals and numerous former District Court Judges. Also, interned with the Honorable Sandra I. Rothenberg of the Colorado Court of Appeals during 1998 and gained invaluable insight concerning disputes and dispute resolution.

7. Describe your employment/retirement status and availability to serve on a DRB and geographical area:

Currently self-employed, and as such, I have a good deal of flexibility in my schedule. No geographical limitations with respect to Colorado.

DRB members are compensated as per Section 105.22 of the CDOT Specifications.
