Panning with Cursor only

Did you know that if you hold down the shift key and drag the cursor in any direction, you can Pan in that direction? If you want to Pan to the right (even in the middle of a command such as Move) hold down the shift key and point to the screen along the left side of the monitor, and then slowly drag the cursor to the right. Your view should begin to scroll to the right. Let go of the shift key, quit dragging the cursor and then continue with your Move command.
