

CDOT Wounded Warrior Transitions forward

Greg Quick joined the Army as a 92 Gulf (Food Service Specialist) July 4, 2001 and was released June 18, 2004 as an E-4.

Greg was deployed to Iraq March 20, 2003 and besides being a “Cook” he took part in training the Iraqi Police “IP’s”. Being a cook (Apparently a good one) gave Greg special opportunities to drive for his First Sergeant on various missions throughout Iraq.

Greg has a wife and three children and he loves to cook for his family. Greg’s specialty is “Anything on the grill” he states. Greg also loves yard work and working on computers. Greg will receive his Bachelor’s Degree in Computer Science in late June, 2011 from College America.

Greg’s six month tenure through the Wounded Warrior Program placed him at the CDOT Construction Development Center (CDC) from December, 2010 through June, 2011 as an Administrative Assistant. The CDC assists small businesses requesting information on consultant, contractor and purchasing procedures and contract opportunities in the transportation industry. The Center has construction plans available for viewing, a library of CDOT publications; copy and fax facilities; access to the Internet and information on other CDOT Bidding Opportunities. Greg commented on how he “Enjoyed learning the construction industry processes and how networking works within the construction community.”

Cecelia Garcia and Greg Quick, CDC Staff

While working at the CDC Greg’s lead was Cecelia Garcia, Civil Rights Specialist. “I loved working with Cecelia, she was very nice, kind, considerate and I am thankful to have had her as a lead at the CDC. I will miss her.”

Greg was offered a job with a small residential construction company close to his home. We wish him well and thank him for his time and service to CDOT and his country! Another Wounded Warrior Transitioned back into the workforce!

Greg states that his experience in the Wounded Warrior Program has been more than beneficial, in fact “A life saver”. What are his plans after CDOT? “I want to spend some time with my family and volunteer for my daughter’s Girl Scouts and save some money up to buy a truck for my wife”. Words you often hear from Veterans-those who think of others before themselves. Good luck and thank you Greg Quick!

U.S. Department of Transportation

Federal Highway Administration

