Key KMP Team Members

Kiewit

Kiewit is one of the largest transportation contractors in North America and has been working in Colorado for more than 70 years. We are proud of doing our part to help build the Denver community, which we call home. We've delivered some of the nation's largest and most complex projects, including ones in our own backyard such as the Transportation Expansion (T-REX) project, I-225 Light Rail Line, Pecos Street Over I-70 Bridge Replacement, and Denver Union Station Transit Improvements. With more than 2,000 employees in Colorado, we are a proud contributor to the region's development as a place to work, play and live. We believe in the power of giving to support the many local organizations and communities around us. In the past 10 years, the Kiewit companies in Colorado have donated nearly $1 million to local organizations.

Meridiam

Meridiam is a global investor and asset manager specializing in public and community infrastructure with a long-term view. Globally, Meridiam has developed more than 50 Public Private Partnerships with an overall project value of more than $40 billion, including eight in the United States alone. Meridiam has built a business focused exclusively on the equity financing of projects sponsored by public authorities for the benefit of each respective community. Through working closely with public authorities at every stage of their projects, from design through long-term management, Meridiam promotes a hands-on approach with a strong focus on the environmental and social benefits of its projects. With an investment horizon of 25 years and beyond, Meridiam strives to become part of the fabric of the local communities that are served by its projects.

WSP (formerly Parsons Brinckerhoff)

With close to 130 professionals in Colorado, Parsons Brinckerhoff is a global consulting firm assisting public and private clients to plan, develop, design, construct, operate and maintain critical infrastructure projects around the world. The Parsons Brinckerhoff Denver office has been an enthusiastic and active member of the Denver Community for more than three decades, with our team offering time and resources to efforts that help strengthen the city and the bonds of its citizens.

Jacobs

Jacobs has been serving clients in Colorado for more than 30 years. We bring value through cost-effective solutions and services ranging from planning, design engineering and construction management for a range of clients including Colorado Department of Transportation and Denver Regional Transportation District. With nearly 550 Colorado employees, Jacobs forms long-term relationships and partners with clients and teams to

Jorgensen

Jorgensen has produced 20 separate smaller scale studies for highway agencies and eventually published the landmark research project “Performance Budgeting System for Highway Maintenance Management” for the National Cooperative Highway Research Program. Jorgensen has expanded its presence as a world-leading provider of operations and maintenance services in the forms of contracting, consultancy, and industry training. Jorgensen’s expertise in highway operations and maintenance management has developed incrementally over its 50-year history. Jorgensen, supported by KMP’ leadership team and other Team Members, provides the workforce and primary expertise to perform operations. Jorgenson holds 30 O&M contracts in the U.S., including more than 13,000 lane miles, 900 bridges, 350 major interchanges, and related facilities in multiple states. Around 50 percent of these contracts include MLs. Jorgensen uses a self-perform model and primarily hires local employees and DBEs/ESBs for specialty areas (e.g., towing, bridge inspections, electrical, signals, and striping).

DBE contractors already on board include HCL Engineers, RMC Consultants, Shrewsberry & Associates, Bilingual Communication Services, Iron Woman, JKS Industries, St Andrews and Villalobos Concrete with many more to come.
