Advisory Council on Historic Preservation

The Advisory Council on Historic Preservation (ACHP) is an independent federal agency that promotes the preservation, enhancement, and productive use of our nation's historic resource. The ACHP was created as part of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966. The 23-member council and its support staff are based in Washington, D.C.

The ACHP is consulted and provided the opportunity to comment whenever it is determined that a Federal action (such as a transportation project requiring Federal Highway Administration finding or approval) would result in an adverse effect on a resource that is listed or eligible to be listed on the National Register of Historic Places.
