*Years 2005 and 2006 were combined for one distribution.

Colorado legislation requires the allocation of funds in proportion to the geographic distribution of K-8 student population. This equates to allocating approximately 75% of the funds to urban areas and 25% to rural areas based upon 2005-2007 American Community Survey data. CDOT averages this across funding years to assure that all selected projects are fully funded rather than awarding partial funding to a project to meet the percentages exactly each year.
