Preliminary Design Completed for Interchange Reconstruction Project

The Colorado Department of Transportation (CDOT), in partnership with Arapahoe County, the Cities of Centennial and Greenwood Village, and the Southeast Public Improvement Metro District, is proceeding with design of improvements to the I-25 and Arapahoe Road interchange. This project consists of design and replacement of the existing I-25 bridge over Arapahoe Road, and other changes to the interchange complex to reduce congestion and improve traffic operations and safety.

After months of evaluating detailed data gathered in the field and during stakeholder coordination meetings, the project recently reached the 30% preliminary design milestone. The design project's first public meeting will be held on April 23rd to present the planned interchange and roadway improvements. Details of the noise abatement walls for Walnut Hills homes will be shown, as well as necessary property acquisitions and easements in the interchange's northeast quadrant related to the realigned frontage road.

Following this meeting, the project will move into final design. A second and final public meeting will be held this fall to present the ultimate improvements and provide construction phasing details. Construction is anticipated to begin on this $68 million project in February 2016 and be completed by the end of 2017.
